Key Client Projects

Norfolk Constabulary

Norfolk & Suffolk Constabulary recognised the need to introduce a more contemporary and inclusive approach to their management and people development. Over a period of 18 months we provided Insights profiles, 1-2-1 feedback and group workshops to over 70 officers from Police Officer to Chief Constable.

Following the success of this programme we have gone on to work with the Office of Police & Crime Commissioner, Operation Hydrant and the Vulnerability Knowledge and Practice Programme (VKPP) all to bring together a consistent language of tolerance, understanding and personality preferences within the work place.

Chief Constable Paul Sanford

NHS One Practice

The Executive Team at One Norwich were looking to bring about a more unified & dynamic approach to their strategic planning and operational management.

The team completed profiles followed by facilitated sessions.

Having a high-functioning senior team is essential to the success of any organisation, and knowing oneself and others is essential to becoming a high-functioning team. The depth of understanding and practical advice that Insights Discovery provides made it the natural choice for our Senior Team's development.

Jarrold Training was the obvious choice for us. Insights Discovery and other leadership training we have done with them previously has been engaging, educational and a highly developmental experience.

Pharmaron

Pharmaron has been a long-term user of Insights profiling and concepts. They invited us to deliver a range of Insights informed courses to their Management Teams.

Working throughout 2022 across several Pharmaron sites and teams, our Insights Discovery® Practitioners delivered a number of courses including Interviewing, Project Management & Innovation.

“

Excellent and personable presentation with expert knowledge delivered in an easily understood manner. Very interesting, useful and informative.

Birketts LLP

A leading regional law firm were looking to run an entertaining and stimulating employee event which would bring tangible benefits of wellbeing, communication and team building.

They brought 30 people together from the Business Development and Marketing Teams, with several colleagues who were meeting each other for the first time or on their first day with the company.

Birketts LLP now have an in-house Insights Discovery Client Practitioner and we are working in partnership with them to offer Insights products and training to their wider client base.

What a fantastic day, incredibly insightful and a scarily accurate report! Elliot's delivery is extremely engaging and entertaining.
